

BIG TIDAL WAVE CRASHES ALONG CONEY ISLAND

Wall of Water Fifteen Feet High Gives Bathers a Shock.

While the sea serpent may be playing dates at other places, Coney Island is not to be left behind in publicity, and so to-day there was a real tidal wave that crashed down all along the water front. Dozens of persons were in bathing at various points, and all escaped without serious damage, although the press agents in the devastated section insisted that the wave was "a solid wall of water fifteen feet high that thundered like artillery as it swept on its relentless way." Despite the fact that earthquakes usually go with tidal waves nobody felt any trembling of the ground, perhaps because one of the in-cent attractions already in operation is a reproduction of the San Francisco disaster.

According to all accounts the wave was at its worst along the beach from West Twenty-fifth to West Twentieth street, and the most damage was done to Seely's Hotel and Bathing Pavilion.
Patrons of the establishment who were swimming were taken off their feet and knocked about until heroes popped out of a dozen nearby places and rescued them. Every window in the hotel and bathing pavilion was broken and all the glasses on the bar of the hotel cafe were broken by the shock of the wave, while bulkheads and jetties connected with the establishment were pushed out of plumb. Lifeboats along the shore were smashed.

James A. Hitt, manager of Seely's Hotel, was walking on the beach when the wall of water bore down. He was thrown against a jetty and bruised.
William McNamara, proprietor of the hotel, was on the platform of the bathing house and heroically rescued some of the patrons of his bathing pavilion.
He was assisted in the work by Dr. P. I.
Nash, of Neptune avenue, who was with him at the time.

Mrs. Ray Hany and her two children, Sadie and Henry, were sitting on the beach and were engulfed, but not too soon for Proprietor McNamara to dash through the curling foam and pull them to safety. Solon J. Heiser, a lawyer, of No. 428 East Fifty-eighth street, Manhattan, was clinging to his wife, Carrie, to the life line of the bathing house.
They were carried off their feet and were helped ashore by Dr. Nash and S.
Goodemann, of West Twenty-third street, Coney Island.

SHIP STILL AGROUND.

The Vincenzo Bonanno Not Yet Floated Off Fire Island.

All efforts thus far to float the Italian steamer Vincenzo Bonanno, which grounded on Fire Island last Sunday, have been unsuccessful. Several tugs pulled on the big vessel at high water to-day, but they succeeded only in swinging her around until her bow pointed directly toward the beach.
She is still firmly fixed in the sand and the wreckers believe that it will be necessary to remove a portion of her cargo before they can float her.

LIFT BRIDGE BROKE, HOLDING MANY UP

New Structure Over Newtown Creek Refused to Work for an Hour.

A part of the new lift bridge which crosses Newtown Creek from Vernon avenue, Long Island City, to Man-hatten avenue, Greenpoint, refused to work for an hour to-day and thousands of persons and many vehicles were blocked.

A motor on the Greenpoint side refused to work. During the hold-up many persons crossed the creek in tug boats.

KING OF NORWAY GREETED HIS GUESTS

French and American Envoys Arrive at Trondhjem for Coronation.

TRONDHJEM, Norway, June 20.—The French armored cruiser Admiral Aube, carrying the special French Embassy to the coronation of King Haakon, arrived here at 9 A. M. to-day. Immediately after she reached the anchorage specially selected for the vessel, her guns awakened the echoes of the fjord with a salute. She then "dressed ship" and the Norwegian media-war and shore batteries answered her salute.

A spanking breeze swept the harbor, causing the flags and bunting to flutter in a lively fashion and raising a sea in which the launches and cutters were tossed about like corks. But in spite of the breeze a dense fog prevailed near the entrance of the fjord and delayed the arrival of the other warships and steamers, including the British Royal yacht Victoria and Albert, having on board the Prince and Princess of Wales and conveyed by the second-class cruisers Juno and Talbot. These vessels are anchored outside the fjord.

The members of the French Embassy landed at 11 o'clock this morning. They were received by officers of the royal household, were given a guard of honor and were driven to the palace, where King Haakon received the embassy and thanked them and their nation for their presence here on the occasion of his coronation.

The leading members of the Norwegian Cabinet, headed by Premier Michelsen, will leave Christiania to-day for Trondhjem.

Major William W. Gibson, the American Military Attaché at St. Petersburg, arrived here to-day to attend the coronation.

Trondhjem continues to fill with visitors and crowds through the streets. The palace and cathedral are the centres of interest.

WILLIAM GROSVENOR DEAD.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 20.—William Grosvenor, treasurer of the Gros-venorite Company, which maintains an extensive plant in Connecticut, died at his home here early to-day. He was stricken with apoplexy at his office on Monday and never recovered consciousness. He was graduated from Brown University in 1869. He was especially prominent in cotton manufacturing circles.

Grand clearance of men's Kneipp linen underwear, 1.25.

NEVER in the history of business has this make of underwear sold at a price so low. It's a regular $3.25 grade and we took the maker's entire stock to sell at $1.50. Lines are broken now, and this still lower price, $1.25, is made to close out the balance at once.

We cannot fill orders on Nos. 38 and 40 in shirts, but in other sizes from 34 to 50 you will find your fit in some one of the styles represented. All sizes of drawers are included, however.

This is the lowest price ever quoted on Kneipp linen underwear—a grade generally known as the best Summer underwear made. The underwear most recommended by physicians and worn extensively by athletes. It absorbs the perspiration, and is always cool and comfortable. It comes from Silsborg, Denmark, and is known the world over. Every garment bears the name of the maker, C. Commichau & Co. No seconds—nothing but absolutely finest quality garments. A chance to buy $3.25 linen underwear at $1.25 may never occur again.
